

HANNA's Pantry started as a small school pantry operating out of a closet and grew into a large-scale, community operation that serves over 30,000 pounds of groceries to 600+ families each month, in an innovative and culturally respectful way that sets new standards for community food pantries.

HISTORY

HANNA's Pantry began in response to a nutritional need for Susquehanna Township School District students. It originally operated as Adopt-a-Family in Thomas Holtzman Elementary School, led by Mary Olley, volunteers, and Rockville United Methodist Church for 18 years.

In 2019, it transitioned into HANNA's Pantry, became a HANNA Foundation project and moved to the high school.

It was built and continues to be supported by volunteers from Faith Immanuel Presbyterian and Tree of Life Lutheran Churches, Susquehanna Township School District students and staff, and many dedicated community members.

Today, the Pantry maintains the long history as a member of the Central Pennsylvania Food Bank and has grown into its own 501(c)(3) non-profit organization.

SUPPORT

HANNA's Pantry relies on grants and financial donations from businesses and individuals in the community to cover our operational costs.

Holiday and other community food drives help maintain our food supplies

VOLUNTEER

Both day and evening opportunities are available in addition to our bi-monthly Saturday morning distributions.

Those that wish to volunteer during the week become members of the Susquehanna Township School District Volunteer program. Information on how to obtain the free clearances along with other information can be found on our website.

For more information contact: volunteers@HANNA'sPantry.org

DONATE

For every $1 donated we can provide about 8 meals worth of groceries for a family. Donate by cash, check, credit card, or online.
